EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

Specification Amendments

(i) Prior to line 1 of page 1, under the Title of the invention "Inserting and extracting device for data carrier plates," the following centered Section Heading has been added --
TECHNICAL FIELD --.

(ii) At page 1, after line 12, the following centered Section Heading has been added --
SUMMARY --.

(iii) At page 4, after line 25, the following centered Section Heading has been added --
BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE DRAWINGS --.

(iv) With regard to page 5 (line 4), the phrase "Fig. 3 shows" has been deleted and replaced by the following -- Figs. 3a, 3b and 3c show--.

(v) At page 5, after line 17, the following centered Section Heading has been added --
DETAILED DESCRIPTION --.

Claim Amendments

(I) With regard to claim 8 (line 3), the word “the” has been deleted (in order to obviate a minor antecedent basis informality without changing claim scope).

(II) With regard to claim 16 (line 2), the word “motor” has been changed to the word -- piezomotor-- (in order to obviate a minor antecedent basis informality without changing claim scope, note claim 3 references a piezomotor, and the specification references both designators (10) and (100) as piezoelectric motor(s)).

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record fails to fairly, teach, show or suggest, by either anticipating or rendering obvious, the invention as set forth in the claims of the instant application.

Furthermore, a search made does not detect the combined claimed elements as set forth in the pending claims. Additionally, the reasons for allowance of the claims over the prior art of record is believed to be readily clear, self evident and apparent from the claim language set forth in sole independent claim 1, when compared and contrasted with the prior art.

More particularly, the instant invention (as set forth in independent claim 1) provides for an inserting and extracting device for rotatable data carrier plates which mechanically moves the data carrier plate from an inserting position into a playing position before playing and back into the inserting position again after playing, with parallel guide rails which extend over the full range of movement for insertion and extraction and which guide the data carrier plate in grooves at diagonally mutually opposed edge regions, wherein at least one of the guide rails transmits to the data carrier plate motion pulses in one of its directions of movement, by means of which pulses the data carrier plate is moved in the insertion or extraction direction.

The closet art includes Nakamichi (US 5,878,011) who discloses a an inserting and extracting device for rotatable data carrier plates (D) which mechanically moves the data carrier plate (D) from an inserting position (FIG. 14) into a playing position (FIG. 17) before playing and back into the inserting position (FIG. 14) again after playing, with parallel guide rails (1002, 1003) which extend over the full range of movement for insertion and extraction and which guide the data carrier plate. The movement of the disc is carried out via a rotating belt (14) around pulleys (7, 15).

Nakamichi (US 5,878,011), however, does not disclose, alone or in combination, with the prior art, wherein then guide rails include grooves at diagonally mutually opposed edge regions, wherein at least one of the guide rails transmits to the data carrier plate motion pulses in one of its directions of movement, by means of which pulses the data carrier plate is moved in the insertion or extraction direction.

Thus, Nakamichi (US 5,878,011) does not teach, show or suggest, the invention as set forth in claim 1 of the instantly claimed invention.

Thus, Nakamichi (US 5,878,011) does not disclose the invention as set forth in the manner, function and relationship relative to other claimed structure as prescribed by the independent claim 1.

Art Unit: 2627

Additionally, Nakamichi (US 5,878,011) does not provide, alone or in combination with the art of record or general knowledge within the art, any suggestion or teaching for the invention as set forth in the independent claim 1.

Conclusion

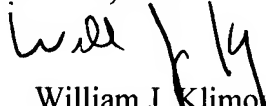

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
